DECORATION

Mood of the month

The heat of summer days can be felt in the parched, baked-clay colours of this transitional decorating palette, which also nods to the approach of hygge season with a sprinkling of cinnamon and luxurious, comforting cream

4 Switching things up and choosing gloss finishes over matt or textured ones can lend a colour palette a fresher feel. The peach and rusty-red terracotta tiling in the small bathroom of Casa Vetulonia by Manuela Tognoli looks urban and inviting. Streamlined furniture choices and minimalist lighting also help to maintain the sense of modernity (manuelatognoli.com).

5 The unusual concept for this apartment in Kyiv was to make the study an integral part of the living room, allowing the owner to see their family without cutting back on screen hours. One More Buro+ designed a large desk to act as the focal point of the space, picked out in bright terracotta (with matching chair) against neutral surrounds (onemore.buro).

6 Natural colours are an ideal backdrop for antiques and art. In this Brisbane home by Alicia Holgar, classic 'Cesca' chairs by Marcel Breuer for Knoll and a mural by Los Angeles-based artist Jessalyn Brooks (called The Avians, it sets the airy tone for this room) are given space to shine (aliciaholgar.com).
